

PRESIDENT HARDING'S PROPOSAL IS REJECTED

OFFICIALS OF MINE WORKERS WILL NOT SUBMIT GRIEVANCES

Notify the President of Their Determination —Receive Response Mentioning the Responsibility They Had Assumed—Probe is Favored of Alleged Irregularities

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Coal mine workers whose walkout in the anthracite region and strike in the unionized bituminous fields has crippled the nation's coal production since April 1, refused today, thru the officers and committeemen of their union to submit their grievances to arbitration under terms suggested by President Harding. They notified the president of their determination, received a response mentioning the responsibility they had assumed, and adjourned the session of their central controlling committee, holding its members in the city until Monday.

Only a white house statement to the effect that nothing would be done until Monday when the bituminous employees are expected to respond to the same arbitration proposal was available to indicate the government's future policy. Anthracite operators have formally accepted the president's plan, but bituminous employers are known to be divided. It was intimated tonight that at least one section would in addition to accepting conditionally the arbitration proposals tender their mines to the government for operation, control, or other disposition.

One group in Pennsylvania is expected to refuse the arbitration proposal and to continue to operate mines notwithstanding the strike, while the Ohio, Illinois and Indiana operators are still discussing their plans. The last general meeting of the employers in the bituminous industry will be held here tomorrow night.

Today's proceedings of the policy committee of the United Mine Workers with 150 odd union spokesmen attending, went forward like clock work on the plan laid down by President Lewis, and other national officers. Recounting the history of his negotiations with the government and the employers, expressing his dissatisfaction with the terms of the arbitration offer, Mr. Lewis in executive session offered a lengthy letter of refusal of the arbitration and moved its adoption.

The vote for adoption of the letter was unanimous. A committee then took the letter to the White House and saw the president briefly.

The scale committee of the union for the anthracite meeting at an earlier meeting refused for themselves to accept the arbitration offer but joined with the general policy committee deliberations.

"For substantial reasons, the representatives of the United Mine Workers are compelled to withhold their acceptance of the arbitration proposals submitted by you," the letter to the president said. *

"The mine workers desire to point out that the coal operators who have been in attendance at the recent conferences assembled by you and to whom you have submitted the plan for arbitration of the coal strike, are only partially representative of the producing interests affected by the present suspension of mining. Operators representing nearly 50 per cent of the tonnage in strike fields, where production is stopped have not been in attendance. * * * and we have no information that the proposed plan of arbitration has been submitted to them by any governmental agency."

"We are further advised that these interests have no intention of coming within the purview of the provisions of your plan of arbitration. Under such circumstances, it is futile to believe any general settlement can be made. * * * Even the acceptance of the plan by the mine workers would bring about only a partial settlement."

Favor Probe of Industry.
The union leaders expressed satisfaction with the proposal to establish a commission to investigate alleged irregularities of operations in the bituminous industry, with production and selling costs. Incidentally they claim the report of such a body was necessary to any arbitration proceeding.

The anthracite industry, it was charged, had "indefensible monopoly profits which are the significant factors in the distribution of price of anthracite coal to consumers."

From the White House after the final response of the miners was at hand, was also issued a copy of a joint letter which the president has written to Mr. Lewis and A. M. Ozle, chairman of the bituminous employees group of the union fields, further interpreting his arbitration proposals.

The president in his letter said (Continued on Page Four.)

NEGOTIATIONS IN SHOPMEN'S STRIKE ARE AT STANDSTILL

Western Carriers Issued Ultimatum to Strikers Last Night

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, July 15.—The third week of the railway shopmen's strike opened today with peace negotiations practically at a standstill following yesterday's separate conferences between railway executives, union heads and railroad board members when the differences were described as "fundamental."

Western carriers tonight issued a virtual ultimatum to the strikers, asserting that they will not agree to any plan inconsistent with decisions of the labor board and will not confer with the strikers while the walkout continues. The statement, issued by the western presidents' committee on public relations, placed responsibility for the continuance of the strike on strike leaders and apparently left only one course open for a settlement.

The executives, the statement said, "are willing to attend any meeting, or participate in any hearing called by the labor board with a view to affecting a settlement that would not nullify, but uphold and carry out the board's decisions."

Virtually abandoning hope of an early settlement, many roads, according to a labor board official, are prepared to make a determined effort to re-open their shops the coming week with non-union employees.

With the carriers apparently determined to maintain traffic as nearly normal as possible, the ranks of the strikers were expected to be augmented Monday by a walkout of firemen and oilers, while at Cleveland the American Federation of Railroad Workers have voted to walk out there.

After a conference with President Harding today, E. F. Grable, head of the maintenance of way organization, said there was no prospect of an immediate authorization of a strike of his 400,000 men but added that 48 hours might change the situation.

Chicago, the hub of the strike, was quiet. Mr. Jewell announced he would have nothing to say over the week end while labor board mediators apparently were unimpressed by the "fundamental differences" developed at yesterday's conferences.

Motor transports to carry mail were inaugurated between two Indiana towns where trains were withheld. Federal court orders restraining strikers from interfering with the petitioners continued to be granted.

Troops were requested at San Bernardino, Cal., to protect railroad property and representatives of Secretary of War Weeks and Governor Neff of Texas were investigating the need for troops at Denison, Texas, where disorders occurred, at Scranton, Pa., where one man was shot and at Ennis, Texas.

Indication that the strike would have an early effect on crops was seen in statements from Fresno, Cal., that $200,000 worth of fruit is endangered and from Macon, Ga., that railroads have begun to withdraw their solicitors from the peach and melon districts.

First reports of sabotage on railroads in the New York district today caused federal authorities to deputize 200 guards for the mails, and prepare to arm a thousand others.

The statement by railroad executives here today said that reports from railroads in all parts of the country showed gains in the number of men in the shops since the strike started. The situation, the statement said, was better in eastern territory than elsewhere.

TIPPERARY COUNTY IS BATTLE CENTER
LONDON, July 15.—A Central News dispatch from Dublin says that Thurston, county Tipperary, has become a battle center, heavy fighting being in progress there for the past few days.

The Nationals occupied the town and the regulars attempted unsuccessfully to surround them. The irregulars, commanded by a brother of Austin Stack, were themselves surprised later and 74 prisoners were captured by the free state forces. A decisive battle is expected at any moment.

Illegally issued in New York, Philadelphia, Chicago and Omaha for shipments of whiskey. Further examination was said to have shown that the names of the directors of prohibition in the various states for these permits had been done by one person.

Illinois Has Many Men Out on Strike

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 15.—Illinois has more men on strike than any other state in the union, with the possible exception of Pennsylvania, according to figures compiled here this week by the Census Bureau and the Bureau of Labor Statistics, of which Ethelbert Stewart, formerly of Decatur, is director.

Totals of workmen on strike for any of the states are not available, but the computations this week were made on the basis of the large number of men out of work in the coal mining and transportation industries. Illinois leads in the number of shopmen employed on the railroads. The large number of men employed in the shops at Danville, East St. Louis, Bloomington, Rockford, Springfield, Quincy and other large railroad centers, as well as in Chicago, gives the state the lead over Pennsylvania, New York, and others heavily populated eastern states.

The figures on file in Washington show that there are roughly 550,000 men out in the shopmen's strike, including between 100,000 and 150,000 clerks, maintenance-of-way employees, signalmen and others who are out on an unauthorized strike. Of the total number, it is conservatively estimated that about one-fifth or 100,000 men are out on strike in Illinois on the railroads, and a substantial portion of these are downstate employees.

Illinois ranks second to Pennsylvania and West Virginia in the number of men employed in the bituminous coal mining industry, according to the Census Bureau. Pennsylvania has 147,000 bituminous coal miners. West Virginia 87,000 and Illinois 73,000.

Practically all of the anthracite coal miners, numbering 147,000 who are also on strike, are confined to Pennsylvania.

Assuming that two-thirds of the Illinois coal miners are now

BLACK WILL MAKE AN INSPECTION OF ILLINOIS MILITIA

Expects to Review Troops At Camp Grant Next Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 15.—An inspection of Illinois National Guard units under arms at Bloomington, Clinton, Camp Grant and possibly Camp Custer, Mich., will be made by Adjutant General Carlos E. Black beginning tomorrow. General Black will go to Clinton, and after inspecting the militia companies on strike duty there he will go to Bloomington.

Whether he will reach Bloomington tomorrow, General Black was uncertain. After visiting Bloomington he will go to Camp Grant for the review to be held there Tuesday. Upon arriving at Camp Grant he will decide whether to go on to Camp Custer or return to Springfield. It is probable he will stop at Kankakee to visit Governor Small who has returned to the state from a brief vacation.

DYE MAKERS FAIL IN FIGHT TO KEEP EXISTING EMBARGO

Senate by Vote of 38 to 32 Strikes Provisions from New Bill

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—Dye manufacturers failed today in the fourth phase of their long fight to have the existing dye embargo and licensing system continued after the coming into force of the administration tariff bill. The senate by a vote of 38 to 32, struck out provisions of that measure under which the embargo would have been continued for one year and might have been extended for any part of an additional year at the discretion of the president.

Senator Frelinghuysen, Republican, New Jersey, announced he would offer the embargo provision anew after the tariff had been reported to the senate from the committee of the whole.

Meantime Senator Bursum, Republican, New Mexico, is preparing an amendment continuing the embargo system for a year or more, but with a provision requiring that the profits of the dye manufacturers in excess of 10 per cent be paid into the federal treasury.

The roll call today on the embargo amendment follows:
For the Embargo: Republican: Baile, Brandagee, Bursum, Calder, Curtis, Dupont, Edge, Ernst, Fernald, France, Frelinghuysen, Gooding, Hale, Jones, of Washington, Ladd, Lenroot, Lodge, McCumber, McKinley, McLean, McNary, New, Oddie, Pepper, Phipps, Rawson, Shirridge, Sterling, Townsend, Warren, Watson, of Indiana, and Willis, total, 32.

Against the Embargo: Republican: Capper, Cummins, Harrell, Johnson, Kellogg, Keyes, McCormick, Moses, Nelson, Nicholson, Norbeck, Norris and Smoot; total, 14.

Democrats: Ashurst, Caraway, Culberson, Dial, Fletcher, Harris, Harrison, Heflin, Kendrick, King, Overman, Pomerene, Ransdell, Robinson, Sheppard, Shields, Simmons, Smith, Stanley, Swanson, Tramm, Underwood, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Walsh of Montana, 24, total, 38.

Several senators voting against the embargo today supported it a year ago, when the present act was passed, but explained that they believed the necessity for a law had ceased to exist.

A provision to continue the dye embargo was continued in the tariff bill as reported by the house ways and means committee but the house struck it out after a fight led by Representative Frear, Republican, Wisconsin. The senate finance committee majority, after long discussion, reinserted the provision in a much modified form.

Takes Up Cotton Schedule.
After disposing of the dye question the senate returned to consideration of the cotton schedule, approving a minimum duty of 20 per cent ad valorem and a maximum duty of 35 per cent ad valorem on cotton sewing thread.

On unbleached and uncolored cloth, containing yarns, the average number of which does not exceed 80, the senate approved a minimum duty of 10 per cent ad valorem and a minimum of 30 per cent on cloth containing yarns of an average number in excess of 80.

Bleached cotton cloth containing yarns, the average number of which does not exceed 80, would bear a minimum duty of 13 per cent ad valorem and that containing yarns with average numbers in excess of 80 would bear a minimum of 33 per cent.

Cotton cloth printed, dyed or woven figured containing yarns not in excess of number 80 would bear a minimum of 15 per cent and that containing yarns in excess of number 80 would bear a minimum of 40 per cent.

UNION OFFICIALS IN CONFERENCE WITH THE PRESIDENT SATURDAY

Harding Gets Direct Information for the First Time from Officials of the Maintenance of Way Employees—Result of Meeting Will Not be Made Known Until This Week

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—President Harding personally intervened today in the railroad strike situation but the success of his efforts to remedy conditions now admitted generally by government officials to be serious, will remain undetermined until next week when the officers of the United Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees and Shop Laborers meet in Detroit.

The president for two hours discussed the strike situation with E. F. Grable, chief of the maintenance of way employees organization, and with Fred L. Feick, executive representative of the same organization.

The results of this conference as announced in a white house statement were that the president received for the first time direct information as to the workers' side of the controversy and was afforded for the first time an opportunity to present direct to a recognized representative of the employees the position of the government.

Another result, announced after the conference by Mr. Grable, consists of a call for a meeting the first of next week in Detroit of the grand officers of the maintenance of way brotherhood to decide on a policy, presumably on whether that organization shall continue to withhold the authorized strike order or whether it shall allow its members to join the striking shop craft workers.

Senator Cummins, Republican, Iowa, announced that hearings soon would be started by the senate interstate commerce committee of which he is chairman, with a view to initiation revision of the transportation act so as to remedy faults which have been shown to exist through development of the present troubled railroad labor situation.

Senator Cummins indicated that the first effort would be to amend the statute to guarantee a fair living wage to railroad workers and a second endeavor would be to provide penalties for violation either by railroads or by workers of the orders of the railroad labor board. The latter will not be attempted during the present strike. It was considered significant that Chairman Cummins' determination should follow closely by on the conference which he held last evening with the president.

Motor Trucks for Mails
As indicating the growing seriousness of the strike situation, Postmaster General Work announced the inauguration of motor truck transportation of mails, the new method having been instituted between Bedford and Swift City, Ind., between which two points all mail trains have been annulled on account of the strike.

Before leaving for Detroit, Mr. Gable had this to say as to his conference with the president: "Our primary reason for seeing the president was to impress upon him the necessity of calling a conference between Mr. Jewell and the railroad executives in order to stop the spread of the strike. We feel that this is the only way to ease the situation and I believe it would be effective."

"The situation has become acute all over the country and we laid before the president a lot of facts, many of which he said had not come to his attention. The president seemed to us for not coming sooner and laying these facts before him."

The chief executive did not indicate whether such a conference as that suggested would be called, Mr. Gable said.

The union official stressed the feeling of the maintenance of way men that the public is too quick to protest when the employees take action against the board's rulings. Violations by the railroad managers he said, go unpunished, because their action hurts only the workers; but when the men take strong action against rulings they do not like, because they are hit hardest then.

Mr. Gable would not forecast the probable outcome of the Detroit meeting.

BANDITS TOLD UP LAUNDRY

Bloomington, Ill., July 15.—Two bandits held up the Model Laundry here at 11:10 o'clock this morning obtaining $500. Irma Karcher, cashier, was alone and was compelled at the point of a gun, to stand with her face to the wall while the cash register was looted. The bandits demanded the pay roll but the employees had been paid. Overall and clothes believed to have been abandoned in the flight were found south of town.

The expense will be $150, which he has saved from selling papers.

SENATE COMMITTEE REFUSES TO MAKE FAVORABLE REPORT

Question of Development of Muscle Shoals Goes to Senate Floor

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, July 15.—The senate committee on agriculture refused today to report favorably a plan for developing the government's $106,000,000 project at Muscle Shoals, Ala., and left the question to be settled on the floor of the senate. All proposals submitted to the committee, including those of Henry Ford, the Alabama Power company and that offered by Senator Norris, committee chairman, for government development and operation were rejected by a majority of the committee.

Henry Ford's tender came the nearest to receiving a favorable report. It was rejected 9 to 7, and the Norris proposal was voted down, 9 to 5. The other offers were disposed of without a record vote.

The plans of Senator Norris and Mr. Ford will be submitted to the senate by their proponents in the form of minority recommendations from the committee. Senator Norris will make a report urging acceptance of the government ownership bill while Senator Ladd, Republican, North Dakota, will present the bill he has introduced for unconditional acceptance of the Ford offer.

Failure of the committee to report favorably one of the proposals was interpreted by some senate leaders as tending to bear out their predictions that the senate would not take final action before adjournment of this congress.

A THOUGHT

Echid, the Lord's hand is not shortened, that He cannot save; neither is His ear heavy, that it cannot hear.—Ezekiel 59:1.

True heroism consists in being superior to the ills of life, in whatever shape they may challenge him in combat.—Napoleon.

The president, it is said, is willing to temporarily defer action on the soldiers' bonus, the ship subsidy and the tariff in order that he may focus his thought upon the railroad strike and the coal mining deadlock.

Mr. Harding thus gives proof that he is ready to tackle the most pressing problems.

Not a great deal of stir has been made about it, but if you make an inspection trip through Jacksonville you will be convinced that there is a great deal of home building in progress. It is noticeable too, that the houses in course of construction are of a very substantial kind. And talk about painting—it is a rare house now that does not display a newly applied covering.

Mr. Grice of Atchison, Kans., who died recently, left an estate valued at $100,000. Thru a long period of years he personally conducted a peanut and popcorn stand, and the fortune was made in that apparently humble way.

The story merely goes to prove again that it is easily possible to accumulate money if one is only willing to consistently combine industry and frugality.

Down in Arkansas a young woman eighteen years of age has just completed her law course. However, unless the statutes of the state are changed she must wait until she is twenty-one years of age before admission to the bar.

With all respect to the aforesaid young lady, it's entirely possible that the law course in Arkansas is not as long or as difficult as that in Illinois.

PECULIAR MOODS.

Do you ever, in walking along a street, try to step on every crack in the sidewalk, or change the length of your strides to avoid stepping on cracks altogether?

In going upstairs, do you have impulses to take certain steps "two at a time," or count the number of steps?

Famous old Dr. Samuel Johnson had a similar habit. In taking a walk he could not resist hitting each picket of a fence with his cane. Sometimes, he wrote, it became an obsession with him that he had missed a picket. Then he would walk back several blocks and hit the annoying picket with great satisfaction.

Every one, at some time or other, has peculiar impulses of this sort. Few stop to analyze them.

These absurd impulses or habits are mild symptoms of psychasthenia, according to Dr. Abraham Myerson, who teaches neurology in Tufts Medical School.

Psychasthenia, says Dr. Myerson, is a disease—one of the forms of nervous and mental disorders which the public call "nervousness" and the scientist calls "psycho-neurosis."

Generally these peculiar impulses can be eliminated by will power. Every one has them at times, so no use worrying about them. We all have "crazy moments."

Psychasthenia, however, can develop into a decidedly diseased condition that interferes with happiness and efficiency.

In the background is the Disease of Fear.

In advanced cases, fear becomes an extreme dread "of closed places, of being alone, of dirt, of disease, of all kinds and manners of situations."

In extreme psychasthenia says Dr. Myerson, the difficulty of making up the mind—of deciding—becomes so great that a person may suffer an agony of internal debate about crossing the street, putting on the clothing, eating the meals—in fact, about every detail of acting and thinking.

The scientist who specializes on abnormalities of the body's endocrine glands steps in and says that fear is the result of imperfect functioning of the adrenal glands, attached to the kidneys.

Opposed to him is the mental scientist who claims that it's the other way around, that mental disorders cause the glandular "acting up."

Regardless of which is right, it is a good thing that attention is finally being paid to mental health as well as bodily health. We live in a highly nervous age, with many times more insane people outside asylum walls than within.

SPECIAL C. &amp; A. SLEEPER WOULD NOT PAY

When S. G. Lutz, vice president of the Chicago & Alton, was in Jacksonville a number of weeks ago, by invitation of the Chamber of Commerce several suggestions were made for the improvement of the service. One suggestion was that a sleeper be brought into Jacksonville by the evening train from St. Louis and placed on the side track and then attached to the North bound Hummer at 2:17.

The whole matter was gone into carefully and Mr. Lutz in a recent letter to Mayor Crabtree explains why it is not feasible to follow out this plan.

Statistics show that from Delhi in Jersey county north to Jacksonville the average number of Chicago passengers per day is between 7 and 9. Even if the sleeper service were added, some of these passengers would still use the day trains.

Mr. Lutz states further that the average number of passengers carried by the Wabash from Jacksonville is three. Some other figures are given to show that the suggested sleeper service could not possibly be maintained except at a certain loss.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

ADVICE

By Berton Braley

WHEN first upon this planet man
Acquired the doubtful boon of speech,
At once the older folks began
To preach.

THEY pointed morals by the score,
They talked of duty and of truth,
And were, of course, an awful bore
To youth.

"A LACK!" the elder folk would cry (A million times these words were flung).
"I didn't act that way when I Was young!"

THE younger generation heard
Advice on what was right and fit,
And didn't heed a single word
Of it.

THEY took their own path in delight
And learned things as they went along,
And were just as often right
As wrong.

IF foolish youth had listened with Respect to older counsel sage,
We'd still be in the Neolithic Age.

SO slip to youth this kind of chat,
"Go forth, your life is yours to make!"
(For that's the only counsel that They'll take!)

THAT GROUND THRESHER

A short time since the Journal asked the question if any one in this vicinity had ever seen a ground thresher and the writer felt satisfied he was the only one who had witnessed the working of that inconvenient machine but L. F. Baughman of this city said he had seen one while a boy in Ohio. It was the regular old style man killer. The affair was simply the cylinder of a thresher placed in a box and set on the ground. It was operated by eight horses while men at the rear, in fearful dust raked away and pitched up the straw while owners took away the chaff and wheat all together.

Sometimes the chaff and wheat were piled into a sort of pen and kept dry till ready to be separated by the hand windmill. That was a hard machine to run and it took a lusty man to do it.

Sometimes the thresher would be placed on the barn floor and the sheaves pitched on from the hay loft to the feeder. We had also used the flail and had driven horses which tramped on the grain on a prepared floor.

Several persons were present and the question regarding other farm implements came up. Who ever saw a jumping shovel plow? Why were few persons in this county ever saw one?

It was an ordinary, old fashioned single shovel, low while in front, on the beam, was fastened a cutter like the article used on a sod plow. That was fastened so that the end came right down to the end of the shovel in a V shape. It was made to use in newly cleared ground where many stumps and roots predominated. Instead of catching on a root it would simply jump over and at the same time scratch the ground pretty well. Charles W. Johnson said he had seen one used in this county.

Then, who ever saw a bull tongue? That was an implement used to cover corn. The seed was dropped in holes by hand and in a shallow furrow marked out previously, and the bull tongue was a piece of metal about six by eight inches, rectangular, used on the frame of a shovel plow instead of the shovel and driven by a horse to cover the corn dropped. T. B. Fozzard said he had seen that implement.

But Mr. Baughman was aton when he said he had seen a side hill plow. It was an implement especially made to plow along the side of a hill and turn the earth in a proper manner.

Old Time Harvesting.

Nearly all present had used or seen the various harvesting implements. The sickle, used from time immemorial was followed by the cradle. When only a good sized boy the writer said he had cradled four acres a day while some men, claimed especial skill and ability in handling the implement and could cut five and six acres a day. All had bound by hand and could do it yet.

The cradle was followed by the reaper which called for a driver, a man on the platform to rake off the bundles and four men to follow and bind. This went on for some time and the writer had seen one of those four and had also followed a cradle binding four acres of wheat a day in pretty good grain.

Next came the self raker, a cumbersome affair drawn by four horses and the operator had to ride one and drive the others while the rake swept around and removed the grain.

Then came the Bope dropper which went till a sheaf had been collected and let it fall making a long pile of grain for a man to kick together and bind.

Then came the Manny machine on which two men rode and bound and they had to be expert to keep the grain out of the way. That was soon superseded by the wire self binder, a cumbersome affair which had to have a specially constructed low platform wagon for its transportation while the wire made trouble with the threshing machine.

Finally Appleby invented the twine binder and it will hardly be replaced except in some places in the west where headers are used. This is a machine which simply cuts the grain a short distance below the heads, sends it into a wagon along side. It is stacked and threshed.

John Dodsworth said he used the first gang plow made in Jacksonville but it was not a success.

The "Why" of Our Cash System

We Do a Strictly Cash Shoe Business We Always Have and Always Will

When the war broke out, the Federal government strongly urged all lines of business to get on a "cash and carry" basis as nearly as possible. This was advised in order to eliminate overhead and waste and to reduce prices to the consumer who always carries the load after all is said and done.

If this was good in the days of war, why not in the days of peace?

In the large cities you may enter stores that resemble the Court of St. James and they will fuss and fume over you like you were the Royal Highness himself. And when you have made your selection, you may say "Charge It," and you may leave that ostentatious establishment with that "grand and glorious" feeling often spoken of. And, of course your selection will be delivered to your door. And you will not be offended by a statement in less than sixty days.

But you, the consumer, are paying the freight plus heavy interest just the same.

The foregoing system is one system.

But, the system of Edwin Smart Shoe Co., is that of "cash and carry."

There is nothing in the line of expert and efficient service that we do not give. We will fit you correctly, possibly better than you ever were before. We will advise you honestly. We will ask you the same price that we do every one else. Our prices are always the same.

We have no "sales." No "mark ups" one day and "mark downs" the next.

This is the store where a child can buy as cheap as a man.

Some day you will find out for your own satisfaction that it pays to buy at a store of this kind, and you will realize that we do save you money.

Instead of eventually, why not now?

Edwin Smart Shoe Co.

CONFERENCE AT THE HAGUE MAY BE CONTINUED

Send Letter to Litvinoff Offering to Hear Any New Statement

(By The Associated Press)

THE HAGUE, July 15.—The central, or non-Russian commission officially took a new conciliatory step tonight, paving the way for the re-opening of the conference, when M. Litvinoff, president of the commission sent a letter to Maxim Litvinoff, head of the Russian delegation, declaring that it was the unanimous opinion of the presidents and members of the three sub-commissions that if M. Litvinoff wished to make a statement modifying his previous declarations, the new statement would be taken into consideration. In such event it would be possible to continue the negotiations.

M. Litvinoff conferred with Edward F. Wise, of the British delegation today, after which rumors were circulated that the negotiations were to be resumed. The Russians said tonight that they have had no instructions from Moscow but they insist that the other delegates have misinterpreted their position on private foreign property nationalized in Russia.

M. Litvinoff declares his statements have been distorted, and there is apparently a wide divergence of opinion as to whether he has offered to make compensation for property confiscated or merely offered to discuss compensation. Significance to the latest letter to M. Litvinoff is found in the fact that at a last meeting of the conference, Litvinoff was informed that if he had any new declarations to make, the non-Russian delegates would be glad to hear them. He now is permitted to modify his previous declaration on confiscated property and compensation, if he so desires. The Russians claim that the official report of the commission on property never was approved by the Russians.

The Italian and Swiss delegates objected to taking any action in the way of breaking off the negotiations until the official minutes had been approved.

THE HAGUE, July 15.—Governor Allen today received a letter from local 170 of the International Hod Carriers' Brotherhood and Common Laborers' Union at Eldorado, Ill., asking him to grant Alexander Howat, now in jail at Girard, Kan., a temporary parole on his honor to return to jail so he may appear on the local's labor day program September 4th.

The governor replied that action must come from Judge A. J. Curran of Crawford county district court, who sentenced Howat for contempt of court.

he thought it advisable to define more clearly the proposals he had set forth, but that his interpretation did not modify them. The program stated:

"The program contemplates three successive stages as follows:

"First—That the mine workers return to work under the same terms and conditions as those which governed each case on last March 31. This includes the check-off.

"Second—It is the intent that the temporary arrangement above shall remain in force only during the shortest period that may be required for a determination of terms and conditions of labor for the period ending March 1, 1923. I have emphasized this by suggesting that the wage scale shall be determined by August 10, 1922, with authority in the commission to extend that period as may be required. It is understood that all questions of dispute as to conditions of labor or any other points of friction between operators and employers, who are parties to this arrangement shall be determined by the commission and such settlement shall hold until the first of March, 1923. These decisions may also require more time than until August 10 and therefore the commission is to have authority to extend time for settlement of each or any of these questions as it finds to be necessary.

"Third—That the commission in recommending an establishment for maintenance of industrial price in the coal industry will be expected to bring in such recommendations in time to allow for their use in the settlement of relations after the first of March, 1923. They are to be recommended and not binding.

Will Ask For Commission.

"The president will ask of congress as soon as the house is reconvened in August for a grant to the commission of the necessary legal powers to make an exhaustive inquiry into the coal industry in order to acquire the information upon which to formulate plans to avoid future suspension of production.

"In order to clarify what shall constitute a commitment to the plan I have proposed let it be understood that, as to the bituminous fields the basis of agreement in national disputes has hitherto been agreements between the United Mine Workers with operators in the central competitive fields. Therefore the acceptance of this offer by the United Mine Workers and by the operators shall be deemed complete and binding when the United Mine Workers and the operators, parties to the central competitive field agreement which expired on March 3—have accepted it. The other bituminous mines, which are now idle are expected to adhere to the plan and comply with the decisions of the commission, but their action in no way affects the validity of the agreement to the plan.

"In the anthracite fields the acceptance of this offer by the United Mine Workers on one side and the anthracite operators association on the other shall render it effective. If the mine workers and operators agree there shall be a separate commission.

"It is understood that all decisions by the commission must be reached by a majority vote thereof and all decisions shall be binding to all parties to the agreement until March 1, 1923."

is an ex-soldier and is well known to down-state Republicans.

More than 25 vacancies in the Illinois prohibition enforcement quota are now being filled, as the result of the recent "housecleaning" by State Prohibition Director Charles A. Gregory.

The majority of these appointments will go to Chicago but at least ten of them are scheduled to be passed out downstate, largely on the recommendation of the Illinois Senators.

Other considerations than politics will count in the selection of the new agents, it has been intimated at the Prohibition Bureau here. The recent removal of Group Chief Albert Curry at Peoria, following the shake-up at Chicago indicates that Director Gregory is determined to put a stop to reports coming from Illinois to Washington to the effect that the state is still more less "wet."

How Illinois Members of Congress Voted During the Week

On July 6 the Senate, by vote of 32 to 19, rejected an amendment proposed by Senator Poindestor of Washington which would have Pacific coast fishermen from landing fish for American consumption at any but an American port. Senator McKinley voted for the amendment, Senator McCormick being absent.

On July 10, the Senate adopted by a vote of 52 to 13 an amendment to the tariff bill which would have reduced the tariff on unshelled peanuts from 3 to 1-2 of a cent. Senator McKinley voted for the lower duty. Senator McCormick was absent.

On July 11, the Senate by a tie vote rejected the proposed duty of 1 1-2 cents per pound on soy beans. Senator McKinley voted for the duty. Senator McCormick was absent.

A Coal Strike Weapon For President Harding

It is generally conceded that the mining situation in the country presents many difficulties and the national administration faces a hard task in trying to bring about a solution which will be fair to the employers and the employees and especially to the public.

Conditions vary widely in the eastern and central competitive bituminous mine fields and there are also very differing conditions in the anthracite fields in the east.

President Harding has insisted that the miners and the operators come to some agreement and begin the production of coal in order to avoid a shortage in the coming months, with the high prices that always go along with such a shortage. Because of the deadlock between miners and operators the president a week ago outlined a plan of mediation. The anthracite operators have accepted, but the bituminous operators have not given their answer and neither has the miners' organization. Anthracite miners have declined the proposed mediation plan.

There have been intimations that the bituminous miners will not accept the finding and that instead will insist that the original demands they made on the operators several months ago must be met if mining operations are resumed.

If the present plan is not accepted and the employers and employees in the mining industry do not get together on some plan which will result in the production of coal, the president has intimated in no uncertain way that he proposes to adopt a plan which will bring about the production of coal. That is the special point in which he is interested as the representative of the people.

No doubt the president has authority under the law to take drastic action. There have been intimations from Washington that the government might take over the management of the mines and draft men for their operation. Still other suggestions have been made as to the possible method which may be followed by the government in carrying out its announced determination that the production of coal must begin at an early date.

A Jacksonville man who takes keen interest in national business problems yesterday outlined a plan which has the marks of sound reasoning and provisions that would get results.

Briefly the plan is this, based upon orders from the president. Announce that mining operations are to be resumed, if necessary under the complete protection of federal troops.

Announce that the wage scale will be the same as that in effect when mining operations were suspended March 31.

Agree to pay operators, the owners of the properties, six per cent on their investment.

Guarantee to the public that prices will not be higher than they have been, and if possible, lower.

Include provision for the employment of men at the mines, regardless of union affiliation if they desire to work.

Provide that if the selling of coal at the prices which have prevailed does not yield a profit equal to 6 per cent on the investment, that the deficit shall be made up by the government.

In other words, apply the same idea here that was used when a guaranteed wheat price was made the farmers in order to speed up production. The plan thus far contemplates a payment to the miners of wages equal to those drawn during the last mining year, a fair return on the investment to the operators and fuel to the people at prices no higher than they have been paying.

THEN if the operators refuse to accept the plan or if the miners decline to work and others do not volunteer to fill their places, import coal from foreign countries. There are hundreds of American ships at the seaboard absolutely useless at this time.

Into what better service could they be pressed than relieving the difficult situation here in the United States? These fleets of ships could bring enough fuel to see this country thru the winter months. The cost would be above normal, even taking into account the fact the ships are not needed for any other freight service.

Then again, as was done with the farmers and the wheat, sell the coal to the consuming public at normal prices and let the government assume the difference in cost.

A consideration of this plan very quickly reveals its strength. With the knowledge that this vast number of ships could be used for this purpose, and with the further knowledge that the government in the emergency intended to do that very thing, in order to protect the interests of the people, the miners and the operators would both be likely to assume a more docile mood.

Mining properties have no value unless they are producing coal and there are not enough openings in other lines of industry to give employment to the miners. President Harding has let it be known that he is seriously considering the plan of having the government take over the mines and drafting men to operate them. That plan has its difficulties as well as its possibilities, for the principle has not yet been established in the United States that men, except in war time, can be compelled to work.

But won't this feasible plan of importing fuel get the desired results more quickly? After all, what the government wants is to have the mines operated by the men who own them and the workers who voluntarily undertake that work at fair wages.

There is no doubt but that many of the mine workers would like to see government ownership of the mines because they think that government ownership would make it a simple matter in the securing of higher wages and other concessions. But government operation of the kind outlined would not be at all to their liking.

One trouble with the mining industry and the public is the fact that the relationship between the operators' organization and the miners' union is so close. The public is never quite certain that these miners and operators are not working together, even at the times when surface indications are that they are fighting bitterly.

MORE ABOUT OLD TIME THRESHING METHODS

Ludington, Mich., July 13, '22
Dear Journal:—
I notice in the issue of your paper of the 11th inst. an article as to the early ways of threshing wheat, and you ask if anyone of your readers had ever seen a ground thresher. Now I do not know that I have ever seen what was called a ground thresher, but I can tell you now I have threshed wheat and have seen it threshed.

The first way was to spread a sheet or canvas cloth, on the ground, lay a few poles or fewer rails on the sheet, put the wheat on the rails and then beat the wheat out with a flail. This flail was a hickory stick about 5 or 6 feet long, twisted or brused into about two feet from the largest end, and you had to watch your heels or you would hit yourself, or your fellow helper on the head or legs.

The next way was to scrape off a large circle of dry spread the wheat on it with heads elevated, and tread it with horses.

I have often rode one horse on the yard and managed 3 others. In this way two men and one boy could thresh about 50 bushels a day. Then came the small threshing machine, run by two horses on a tread wheel. The wheel did not revolve like a merry go round, but the horses stood with their heads and shoulders elevated. With this machine we threshed in one afternoon 51 bushels, all we had. All this modus operandi is a relic of the past. Haven't we made splendid progress?

MURRAYVILLE COAL MINE VERY BUSY

The coal mine near Murrayville has been carrying on very active business in recent weeks. The price has been $2.50 a ton at the mine and the demand has been greater than the supply. Several new men have recently been employed. However, a cave-in in one part of the mine is slowing down operations just at present.

SEPARATOR CATCHES FIRE; WHEAT BURNS

Eric Northrup Residing Near Bufluffs Loses 114 Bushels of Threshed Grain—Separator is Destroyed.

Bluffs, July 15.—Eric Northrup residing one and one half miles north of Bluffs lost 114 bushels of wheat and the separator of the threshing machine of James Chance of this place was destroyed by fire about 3 o'clock this afternoon.

Chance was engaged in threshing Mr. Northrup's wheat when a spark from the engine set the separator afire. By hard work the flames were extinguished but not before 114 bushels of the threshed wheat and the separator were burned. Some of the shock wheat also was destroyed.

It is not thought that Mr. Northrup carried any insurance on the grain nor Mr. Chance any on the threshing outfit. The loss will total several hundred dollars.

MORGAN COUNTY FAIR NOTES

Good progress was made in the preliminary work of the Morgan County Fair Saturday. Contracts were made with two of the bands that are to furnish music for the event and a third contract will be signed Monday.

The Grounds committee met in the afternoon and laid out the locations for the ten large tents that are to house the displays of livestock, farm and household products. The Concession committee allotted space to 21 concessions and held interviews with several desiring space but these were not closed as the committee wished to secure the approval of the board of Directors before closing contracts.

The race track is now completed and was turned over to the Supt. of Speed Scott Green last night by the contractors in charge. Several race horses were given work outs on the track during the day.

The greater portion of the catalogues are in the mail or have been distributed. The Publicity committee have received their advertising matter and have already begun the work of distributing it. Auto banners, Auto stickers, waterproof cards for tacking on fences and barns and smaller cards for use on telephone posts.

NEW MILE RECORD FOR 2:03 PACE ESTABLISHED

Margaret Dillon, Driven By Tommy Murphy Paced the Circuit in 2:00 Flat—Record of Year Was Formerly Held By Roy Gratton.

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 15—A new record for the year was established in the Willys-Overland stake, 2:03 pace, the feature event of the final program of the grand circuit here today when Margaret Dillon, driven by Tommy Murphy paced the circuit in 2:00 flat, beating the year's record of 2:02 1-4 established Friday by Roy Gratton and tied in the first heat of today's race by Margaret Dillon. This record established a record for the three heats of the year—2:02 1-4, 2:00; 2:01 1-2.

L. C. Webb, of Mason Mich., one of the judges who resigned following Friday's demonstration took his place in the judges' stand for today's races. Associated with him were George C. Bryce, secretary of the Toledo Driving Club and W. O. Holst, another member of the club.

"Webb reconsidered his action of yesterday in leaving the stand when the officials of the Toledo Driving Club declared all bets off," Secretary Bryce said.

The Great Volo driven by Cox captured at 2:09 trot in straight heats.

Louise Delopez, driven by William Armstrong, won the 2:11 trot in straight heats. Armstrong took the lead on the back stretch in both heats and retained it with little effort to the wire, making 2:07 1-4 in both heats. Bolova with Berry up finished second.

Walter Cox won his second race of the day when he piloted Sun Flash to a win in straight heats in the 2:15 pace, traversing the mile in 2:07 1-2 in each event.

BONER BY CHICAGO HURLER LOSES GAME

Throws Ball to Wrong Place and Then Hit Brings Tying Run Over—Hack Miller Gets Third Homer in Two Days.

CHICAGO, July 15—An error of omission by Kaufmann cost him his game when Philadelphia staged a ninth inning rally and defeated Chicago 2 to 1. With one out and a man on first and second, Wrightstone grounded to Kaufmann, who had plenty of time to start a double play via third base, but instead threw to second which let Lee reach third, and Wrightstone first. Henline followed with a single sending the tying run home, and Weiner's double sent Wrightstone home with the winning run. Hack Miller's home run drive, his third in two days, gave Chicago its only run. Score:

BIG PROFITS SHOWN BY ELECTRIC PLANT

Springfield Made Handsome Sum Last Year According to State-ment Made By Commissioner Spaulding.

The Springfield electric plant is operated by the city and current is sold commercially. The city has maintained its right to a place in the commercial field only after a bitter fight. Commissioner Spaulding who has charge of the water and light departments of the city recently made the following statement with reference to the successful record made in plant operation.

"The condition of the Springfield electric plant is considered of interest to all Illinois, not alone because its establishment has meant the reduction of light and power rates in Springfield below those of any city in the state, it is said, but because the eight year fight of the city to establish its own plant culminated in a decision of the United States supreme court holding that the cities of Illinois are free to operate their own plants without permission from the state commerce commission.

"Mr. Spaulding, who as commissioner is in charge of the light power and water departments, in a financial statement showing the condition of the enterprise, states that the net revenue for the last year was $108,339.51. After deducting interest on bonds, reserves and laying aside a sum for depreciation of the property, the net profits of the plant for the year were $82,861, which goes into the city treasury.

"The commissioner estimated that the saving to users during the year because of decreased rates over those formerly charged by the privately owned plant here was $110,000. Adding this to the actual profit of $82,861.62 gives him the figure of $192,861.62. He declared this, if equally divided among the citizens of Springfield, would amount to $16 to the average family of five persons.

"The reduced rates and extension of service into hitherto undeveloped territory has enabled many citizens to use electricity who have never used it in their homes before, Mr. Spaulding declared.

"When the municipal plant entered the commercial field there were about 7,000 electric consumers in the city," he continued. "Now there are 12,000 consumers—an increase of more than 70 per cent in six years. The coal oil lamp and gas jet are being put aside. Electric cooking is being substituted for gas and coal.

"In only a few short years electric energy has become the economical life-blood of the nation. The purpose of the municipal light plant and power department is to bring this magic power—the greatest invention of the twentieth century—within the reach of all. It is a co-operative enterprise established by the citizens of Springfield for the benefit of all. It has no relation to politics whatever. The 10,000 horsepower capacity of this plant is a giant slave in the service of the people, waiting to do their bidding at the cost of upkeep only."

MORGAN COUNTY LAD DIES AT GRANITE CITY

Charles Coyne World War Veteran Had Recently Been Patient at Oak Lawn.

Many Morgan county people will be sorry to learn of the death in Granite City of Charles Coyne, a World War veteran who recently spent a number of weeks at Oak Lawn. The young man was born in Jacksonville September 30, 1899, and the family subsequently removed to Granite City.

On May 27, 1917, he volunteered for army service at Jefferson Barracks. Altho he was but seventeen years of age he was accepted and saw overseas service with the 46th Infantry. For some time he was at camp hospital No. 43 at Gledres, France Later tubercular symptoms developed and after his discharge from the army he took hospital treatment. After being located for a time at Oak Lawn, his condition suggested his return to his home city, and it was there that his death occurred.

The funeral service took place at St. Joseph's Catholic church Friday and interment was made in St. Mark's cemetery. So another name has been added to the long list of young Americans who gave their lives for their country. Young Coyne was highly esteemed by his comrades and others who knew him, and always conducted himself in an exemplary way.

The deceased was a son of Edward Coyne, whose death occurred in 1904. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Anna J. Murray, the sister and two brothers, Elsie Coyne, J. W. and Harry Coyne, and two half brothers, LeRoy and Francis Murray.

Among those who attended the funeral were Mrs. Mary Robinson and John Lockman of this vicinity, Mrs. Harry Perry and daughter, Miss Ethel Perry, of Galesburg.

Last night he met the men again and they attacked him, one remarking that he would "cut the clothes off of Smith's back." He was making a good fight when a third man jumped on his back, press the police had been unable After cutting Smith the three men fled and at the hour of going to locate them.

MORE OIL ORDERED FOR COUNTY HIGHWAYS

Supt. Baldwin Expects Fourteen More Cars Soon—Will Be Applied on State Aid Roads.

Twelve cars of oil have been received and applied on Morgan county roads this season, according to a statement made yesterday by L. V. Baldwin, superintendent of highways. Orders have been placed for the shipment of fourteen additional cars. Mr. Baldwin said, and the oil will be spread just as rapidly as it is received.

It is reasonable to expect that present transportation conditions will cause some delay, or at least irregularity, in the receipt of the oil shipments. However, no serious interference with the road work program is expected.

There are about 190 miles of state aid road and it will be possible with the funds available this year to apply oil on a little more than 100 miles. If oiling were the only expense the whole mileage could be handled but the expense of putting the roadways into shape for the application of oil is as great as for the oil itself.

Thus far the following stretches of road have been oiled: Jacksonville to Sinclair, 9 miles; Jacksonville to a point west of Bethel, 12 miles; Jacksonville toward Woodson, 3 miles; Alexander to Franklin, 7 miles; Franklin to a point south three miles; Franklin toward Jacksonville, 12 miles; Mound road, 5 miles; Springfield road, 3 miles.

When the oil now ordered has been received the quantity will be sufficient for completing the oiling of the roads from Jacksonville to Meredosia, from Alexander to the state road, the state road to the Morgan county line; Franklin to Jacksonville; Franklin to Waverly, the Woodson road from Jacksonville to Murrayville.

As indicated already, parts of these roads have already been oiled and the additional 14 cars will make possible the completion of this work. Still other roads will be oiled, but it is not possible at this time to tell just the amount of money that will be available for oil purchases.

A drive thru the county readily furnishes proof that more work than ever before is being done upon the roads of the county. In some instances the progress of the work makes the road difficult of travel for the present time, but the passage of a few weeks will put the roads into good condition. Some rains with dragging will make for even better roads, and on the basis of the work in progress it is quite safe to say that the roads of the county will be in better shape during the coming winter than ever before.

NATIONAL LOTTERY LIBORIO IS BLOT ON CUBAN REPUBLIC

Has Shaken Very Foundations of Young Republic—Director of Lottery Eclipses Any Member of the Cabinet—Opponents of Gambling Make Lottery Campaign Issue

(By The Associated Press)
HAVANA, Cuba.—What Baseball is to Uncle Sam and cricket is to John Bull, that and more is the National Lottery Liborio, who is cuba personified by the cartoonists. But baseball never has threatened the Constitution nor cricket the Magna Charta, while the lottery has shaken the very foundations of the 20-year-old Cuban republic. In the significance of the lottery to Liborio is included the willingness of some hundreds of thousands of Cubans to take a chance three times a month, and the opportunity this has given those managing the lottery to direct the republic's political destinies. Created 15 years ago during the administration of the late Jose Miguel Gomez and after being banned by the provisional American government, the lottery was modeled after that which flourished for decades under Spanish rule. Just as the records of the Spanish general throw little real light on the intimate workings of the Nineteenth Century gamble, so does the legislative tangle surrounding its Twentieth Century successor today keep almost everybody outside a charming circle knowing just how the wheels go round. From the snappy legal excerpts appearing on the back of the tickets it can be estimated that, if the government gets all it legally is entitled to and the 36 yearly drawings are all absorbed by the public, said public will have paid roughly $7,500,000 a year, for three dozen shots at the usual big prize for $100,000 and his smaller brothers. But, just as the lottery has drawn away from the secretary of the treasury, so do the prices paid in the street for tickets differ from the legal scale. The director of the lottery, responsible only to the president, has eclipsed in importance most of the cabinet members, and the prices paid for tickets are from 20 to 30 percent above par. During the dance of the millions that

GREENE COUNTY ROADS IN GOOD CONDITION

Highways in Uniformly Satisfactory Condition Thruout County—Other Greene County Items.

White Hall, July 15.—Highways thru Greene county are in good condition, the roughness reported a week ago having improved, and the showers of the past week having allayed the dust annoyance. The roughness of the stretch of dirt road between White Hall and Roodhouse is still very pronounced, being cupped by the excessive traffic. There is not a detour in Greene county. A piece of rebuilding at the edge of the square in Carrollton was completed last Wednesday. White Hall has nothing to offer to tourists and visitors on their week-end outings of a special character, except the camping privileges of Gregory Park immediately south of the city, can be located by the White Hall Chautauqua sign. Those who are inclined to worship are invited to any of the churches at the morning hour, but in the evening the only church service is held in Princess theatre.

Work on the new hard road north from White Hall pends settlement of the railroad strike. All the machinery is at present located at Carrollton, and the contractor is expected to open his camp at Roodhouse soon, which will be about the center of the road-building job.

The railroad situation has not improved, although there has been curtailment of passenger service on the Chicago & Alton, but trains are running somewhat irregularly. Movement of freight is practically at a standstill so far as this railroad is concerned, but in the case of the Burlington there has not been any kind of an embargo placed. As a result all local wheat movements are going to the Burlington, and the early apples are being hauled in to White Hall for shipment over the Burlington, which shipments normally are loaded at Hillview and Drake on the C. & A. The early harvest, however, constitutes only a few cars.

Walter Edwards and family have arrived from Westchester, Iowa, and are guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards.

Mrs. Benjamin Baldwin is here from Arkansas City, Ark.

George Halbert and Frank Dawdy and their families are spending the week-end at Kampsville.

Mrs. W. C. Springfield and daughter of Oshkosh, Wis., are the guests of the former's mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan.

Mrs. Susan Evans of Denver and Mrs. Oscar Hatfield of Oklahoma are guests of the former's brother, J. W. Carr in St. Louis, and will reach White Hall later.

Mrs. C. H. Giller has gone to California to visit her son Henry.

PERHAPS YOU HAVE SEEN HIS FRIEND

The chief thought that by publishing the letter someone might be able to supply the unfinished part. In the mean time he has written to the party, who sent a self addressed envelope and an extra sheet of paper, asking him to kindly send the name of his friend.

LEFT FOR VACATION

Freight Car Shortage

BABSON PREDICTS FREIGHT SHORTAGE
Effect on Prices

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., July 15.—During the past week Roger W. Babson has been in New York in consultation with important railway interests. He has returned believing that a freight car shortage is inevitable this fall, and everything possible should be done to prevent it.

Concerning the same Mr. Babson states as follows:

"There are various events which indicate a serious congestion of freight this fall. First there is a real shortage of equipment in good condition. Thruout the war the equipment of most railroads was allowed to run down. Little was done to repair this equipment until this year. During the past few months railroads have been endeavoring to do five years' repair work in one. As a result a great many freight cars are either in the process of being repaired or are waiting to be repaired. In either case they are out of service. It is true many of these cars will be back in service by winter but they will not be available by fall. This means that there are fewer cars available today to haul freight than are usually available.

"Usually the railroads haul their coal during the spring and summer. The winter supply is usually delivered by the railroads during the summer months. Thus far this year very little coal has been hauled. Only immediate needs have been taken care of. Yet only two more months remain before people will be starting their furnace fires. On the assumption that the miners will soon be back to work this means that the railroads will be deluged with coal during the remainder of the year. Every available car capable of handling coal will be pressed into service and the coal tonnage should be very, very heavy.

"The outlook today is for good crops this fall. At prevailing prices the farmers will want to sell their grain and move it at once. This means that the railroads will be called upon to move a tremendous amount of grain while they are attempting to move the coal. There are factors which lead one to believe that manufacturing as a whole will be more active this fall than it has been at any time this year.

"Strengthening commodity prices are often—although not always—preceded by strengthening security prices. The stock market usually discounts rises in the commodity market. Thus a congestion of freight might mean both advancing commodity and security prices. Furthermore, in the case of a freight congestion, the railroads should temporarily, at least, show very handsome earnings. Already the railways are showing very good earnings owing to the high rates and reduced operating expenses, notwithstanding the fact that they are hauling very little freight. If the time comes when the railroads will carry 100 per cent capacity, these earnings should be very large. Large railroad earnings should tend for higher prices for railroad securities. A word to the wise is sufficient."

General business according to the index figure of the Babson-chart stands at 17 per cent below normal the same as last week.

MERCHANTS TALK OF COUNTY TOUR

May Make Trip Soon to Boost Local Business—Plan to Cover County in Two Days.

The meeting of the executive board of the Merchants' division tomorrow will discuss the plan of touring the county some time this summer in the interest of boosting the local businesses.

If the tour is taken it will be advertised for some time in advance. Half the county would be covered in one day and the other half left for a later day. About fifty cars would be expected to make the trip. Each car owner would be privileged to decorate his car as pleases him and take whoever he wishes. Every one would be given a badge with his or her name on it thus introducing the person to the people he meets and cultivating a feeling of good fellowship.

In each town a band concert would be given and a good fellowship program held. Visits would be made to the local merchants and everyone would become mutually acquainted.

The tour would start early enough in the morning to allow ample time in each town. It also would be possible to visit a few out of the county but commuting with Jacksonville.

C. O. Spink of Madison, Iowa, arrived in the city last night for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Spink of this city. Mrs. C. O. Spink has been in the city for the past week and will return with her husband in a few days.

INSPECTOR GETS LAW VIOLATORS

S. H. Lorton of the state division of foods and dairies was in the city yesterday prosecuting violators of the egg candling law.

It seems that there are several dealers in Jacksonville that have been paying no attention to the state egg candling law. The offending dealers have been fined and those who have been getting negligent are warned.

The inspector states that he is surprised at the violation here, as in most places the law is being obeyed as the dealers have found that it pays them to handle none but sanitary foods.

The department of Foods and Dairies watches all restaurants and dispensers of foods. Mr. Lorton advised the local grocers to keep all unwashed foodstuffs covered and clean.

CARNIVAL LEAVES THIS MORNING

The Gold Medal Carnival Company that has been playing in the city for the past week will leave this morning at 8 o'clock over the C. and A. The next stopping place of the show will be Alton.

The carnival has made a very good impression in this city as it is of a higher type than most. It showed its worth when it gave its services free for entertaining the disabled soldiers at Oak Lawn and state hospital.

NEW FANGLED IDEAS FAIL TO MAKE HIT

Old Seal Hunters Not Enthusiastic About Locating Seals From Airplanes—Turn Down Offers of Aviators to Locate Them.

ST. JOHN'S, N. F.—Newfangled contraptions find little favor in the eyes of the Newfoundland sealers, and so a plan introduced this season to use airplanes for locating the seal herds failed of acceptance by the seasoned sealing skippers. The eyes of an airman cannot beat the skill of a seafaring man wise in wind and weather, said the skeptics.

Aviators flew over the vast ice-fields from Labrador south to the Grand Banks during the sealing season and claimed to have found the main seal herd 200 miles from the region where the sealing fleet was operating. "Nonsense," said the seal hunters, and went on about their business. The air-men offered to sell their information to the Newfoundland government for $40,000 and they offered it to the owners of the sealing fleet for the same figure. The season from mid-July to the government nor ship owners would deal. Finally, when the sealing was over and the fleet had dispersed, agreed to accept 10 cents a seal for their information. It was too late and so the "seals-from-the-air" theory has never been tested.

Hunters claim that the main body of seals was where they killed their catch, and in proof point to the harvest of 120,000 carcasses, 20 percent more than that of 1921. The old hand at the hunting studies wind and weather for weeks before the season opens, and then follows his experience and instinct. As for spotting seals from the air, he says, no green man is to be trusted with that job. Even experienced sealers admit that nothing is easier than to exaggerate the number of seals visible from the crow's nest of a ship, let alone an airplane.

There are other issues in the argument, too. Many hunters believe the seal herds have been depleted, and that heavier catches than that of this year would soon wipe them out. For the 30 years from 1870 to 1900 the average catch was 200,000. In 1900 the fleet attained the record—317,000. Two years after there was another big catch, and since that time the seal harvest has been dwindling.

Then there is the market to consider. The seal hunters. In 1902 seals were so plentiful that prices dropped below a paying figure, and it was only during the war when seal oil brought high prices for the manufacture of glycerine that the business again became profitable. Even the reduced catches of late years have been sufficient for the market, it is claimed.

The aviator-sealer thus has many obstacles to overcome before he can obtain a hearing, but he still has friends in the fleet. These have proposed that the air-men be used next season on the 10 cents a seal basis and it is believed that this course will be adopted.

The Newfoundland seal is hunted almost entirely for its skin, which is made into leather, and for its fat, which is converted into oil and used for many industries.

CHURCHES UNITE IN OPEN AIR SERVICES

State Street, Northminster, Westminster, Grace, Centenary, First Baptist and Congregational churches are holding open air services every Sunday evening at Grace church lawn.

These churches have a total membership of twenty-five hundred members. The entry platform at Grace is used as a rostrum and folding chairs are used to seat the congregation. Each minister takes a Sunday for his sermon. The congregational singing is one of the features of the service.

The churches are guaranteed against noise by a traffic policeman who keeps traffic off the street in front of the church.

People are invited to come and park their cars on Church street and may sit in them instead of the folding chairs during the services if they wish.

Everyone is invited to attend tonight and hear the gospel under the stars.

ILLINOIS SOLDIER'S BONUS BILL CARRIES SUM OF $55,000,000

American Legion Will Start Campaign for Its Passage Tomorrow—Will Pay to Every Person Who Served a Sum Equal to Fifty Cents For Each Day He Served

(By The Associated Press)
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 15.—The proposed Illinois bonus act for soldiers of the world war, a campaign for which is to be started by the American Legion of the state on July 17, provides for the sale of $55,000,000 in bonds as the means to raise the money to pay the bonus.

The act purposes to pay every "person who was enlisted, inducted, warranted or commissioned and who served honorably in active military duty in the military or naval service" during the world war, was a resident of Illinois at the time of entering the service and was honorably discharged, a sum equal to fifty cents a day for each day that he served. This sum is not to exceed $300, and it does not include those who served less than two months.

If the person who served has died, the husband, wife, children, mother, father, brother or sister of such person shall receive the sum to which he was entitled under the act. If the person entitled to such fund died while in the service $300 shall be paid to his beneficiaries.

In addition to the dishonorably discharged person, others who are not included in the act are conscientious objectors, those who in the service performed civilian work at civilian pay, anyone who has received a bonus from another state, and no payment shall be made for the time spent in taking training in any students' army or navy training corps.

The act creates a "Service Recognition Board," consisting of the governor, the state treasurer and the adjutant general. This board is to control the scheme of paying out the fund and is to determine who is entitled to payment. All applications for compensation must be made to this board, if the act becomes a law, and no applications will be considered after Jan. 1, 1925.

The bonds to be sold for this fund are to bear interest at the rate of three and one-half per cent, and this interest is to be paid by a direct tax, unless a sufficient amount of money from other revenue is appropriated in the year in which the interest falls due. The bonds are to be retired in 20 years.

The proposition of whether the bonus act shall become a law will be submitted to the voters of the state at the election next November. The question upon which the people will be asked to vote yes or no will be presented to them in the following form:

"Shall the State of Illinois contract a debt of $55,000,000.00 and issue bonds to that amount, and levy annually a direct tax sufficient to pay the interest on such bonds as shall accrue and to pay off and discharge the principal of such bonds within twenty years from issuance, in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the General Assembly of Illinois entitled, 'An Act to provide payment of compensation to certain persons who served with the military or naval forces of the United States in the recent war with Germany?'"

PROMOTING THE CHAUTAUQUA

Some Chautauquas require little work or time on the part of the local management. Circuit Chautauquas come built to order, the program, equipment, supplies and necessary help all being furnished by a bureau all the local committee has to do is to help the bureau advance agent secure a certain number of guarantors for season tickets and then sign a contract on the dotted line.

Not so with an independent Chautauqua such as the Jacksonville. This Chautauqua is promoted solely by the local directors and everything which goes into its make-up is secured independent of any bureau. True there are agencies which supply talent, but every number is selected on its individual merit. Some of the talent is contracted for direct, hence programs include attractions from several agencies and speakers and music secured direct. The tentage, chairs, advertising, all help employed is local.

The program is the big thing about a Chautauqua. The programs must satisfy patrons of all time. It must be on the lookout the year round for talent. Information must be had from Chautauqua publications the newspapers and magazines, the agencies and for talent who here. The program committee commences booking talent about a year ahead of the assembly and usually has in mind before that time a number of attractions it wants. Booking agents meet the committee during or soon after the assembly.

They offer various types of talent. For instance in readers they will have three or more at different prices. It happens that a number of good Chautauquas which are not afraid to spend money on their programs meet during the time of the Jacksonville Chautauqua and this means that the local committee which never books anything but the best attractions must make its contracts without delay, and even then, meets disappointments in cancellations.

Last year the local committee wanted a particular musical organization of which it had had splendid reports. The booking agent insisted he could not supply it as its time was already sold. He was told that unless he could supply it for two days, he could pack up his papers and move on. The desired music will appear on the last two days of the assembly, but there were several months of correspondence concerning it. Mr. Gage, the platform manager, last year, before he left the grounds agreed with the local committee that he would come back this year, if wanted, and the committee tentatively agreed to use him again. His time is controlled thru an agency and another assembly demanded him so strongly that the agency sold him to it and told the Jacksonville committee it could not have him and then the fireworks commenced and continued for several months. Mr. Gage stood on his agreement with the local committee and will again be with us.

The local committees first bookings include most of the music and entertainment and probably half the speakers. Openings are left until within a few months of the assembly so that any available new speakers or other attractions may be booked. This year the local committee investigated the matter of radio demonstrations, but was finally forced to abandon them as not dependable satisfactory at this stage of radio development.

About nine thousand Chautauquas operate in America. Circuits are scattered everywhere. Most attractions do circuit work part of the year, at least. A speaker who is on the program one year may be lecturing on the Pacific coast, in New England, Canada or even Australia the next year and may not get back to our region for several years. Several years ago J. W. Brougher spoke here. The local committee asked a return date and got it in four years.

Booking an attraction does not necessarily mean that it will stay booked. In checking out, it is sometimes found that railroad connections compel cancellation. The talent for independent Chautauquas very often makes long journeys to meet engagements. Railroads change time-tables. When the final checking up of the program is made, and this is done as late as possible before printing the programs, difficulties may appear.

After talent is booked, not infrequently dates are switched to accommodate the talent, agency or local committee. Sometimes talent breaks its contracts. A year or two ago a speaker booked for Jacksonville dropped dead as he was stepping onto a train just a few days before he was to appear here. A musical company of four booked several years ago for traveling a circuit in a Ford, met an accident a few weeks before due to appear here, and three of the four were killed. Then speakers, musicians and entertainers are human and subject to human ailments and cancellations result, sometimes at almost the last minute.

The program committee must be on the job all the time and all details as to dates, time tables and advertising carefully watched. Even so, a delayed train or last-minute accident or illness may cause trouble.

There are fifty or more numbers on each annual program which are supplied by out-of-town talent. Some of this talent comes to Jacksonville direct from the Atlantic coast or some of the Rocky Mountain states but most frequently from New York, Ohio, Indiana, Iowa, Missouri or Illinois. Looking back several years, the Jacksonville programs have been presented as advertised, except for a few delays occasioned by train service. The record is marvelous when one considers it.

The tentage and chairs for the assembly are procured from Springfield. A man is sent to superintend the erection of the big tent. Aside from this, the entire work of tent hauling and equipment and dismantling is done under the supervision of the secretary. During the war and since, the price of tentage has been high and some years it was almost impossible to secure the required tentage.

The Chautauqua directorate continues from year to year without much change in personnel. The directors each have certain duties with which they are familiar and as the board always works in harmony, everything runs smoothly. All sorts of suggestions and criticisms come to their attention for consideration. Their constant endeavor is to provide the best possible program at a popular price, supply all comforts to patrons and make financial ends meet.

The Chautauqua employees are all local people. Many of them have been with the Chautauqua so long that their faces are familiar to all. Everyone of them has problems to meet and rough places to smooth out. They are a fine bunch of fellows, work together all time for the Chautauqua and its patrons and the directors are proud of them.

An independent Chautauqua means a lot of work for the local management, but the independent fits and serves the community and grows from year to year, if properly managed. The well-known permanent Chautauquas such as Chautauqua, New York, Winona Lake, Ind., are all independent. The Jacksonville Chautauqua is building along the lines of the noted assemblies. Jacksonville talent is often the same as used by those assemblies. The directors endeavor to present each year a stronger program than ever before. The constantly increasing interest and attendance in our Chautauqua indicates that Jacksonville and her territory appreciates this community project.

sation produced by the publication of charges that had been going the rounds for months fixed the attention of both the public and congress on the lottery and the mysteries thereof. There was little surprise, however, it was learned that one of the famous ten memoranda submitted to President Alfredo Zayas last month by Major-General Enoch H. Crowder, who speaks for President Harding in the national palace, was concerned with the management of the lottery and was as important, in its way, as the ones that insinuated the necessity of cabinet reform and a moral cleanup in the collection and disbursement of federal revenues.

Lottery Legislation Tricklish

That was when the foundations of the republic trembled for while the other cleanup jobs were not considered unduly difficult, meddled with an institution with such widespread political ramifications as the lottery was a horse of a different color. Intervention reports flew thick and fast, based on the supposition that the administration would not permit foreign hands to tamper with the cogs of the Deus ex machina that furnished the motive power for the political steamroller.

Just after the house decided to construct a permanent base of operations for its lottery offensive, the word came from higher up that the reform suggested in one of the memoranda would be brought about by presidential decree, and congress thus would be spared a great deal of complicated and probably disagreeable legislative formalities. The director of the lottery a few days ago held a long conference with President Zayas and it is reported that the president outlined to him what would be done to give the institution he still controls its pristine brightness of 1907. It is not expected that the axe will fall until after the end of the fiscal year on June 30, before which date congress has promised to enact much vital legislation. To act before then might delay much needed laws, for nobody knows in what direction and how far the lottery's influence extends.

Thruout all the recent hue and cry about the lottery it has been noticeable that demands for its complete suppression have been few and far between. Liborio is just as closely wedded to buying tickets three times a month as he is to raising sugar cane and tobacco.

There are many in Cuba, light sleepers for the most part, who are strong for at least one reform—that of putting teeth into the provision which prohibits lottery peddlers from shouting their wares. They have been awakened too many times in the early hours of the three mornings a month on which the blindfolded orphans draw the lucky balls from the cages for the big and little prizes, by the raucous shouts of peddlers who have only a few hours to dispose of their tickets and would rather have the sure margin that results from a sale than the theoretical chance of 1 in 32,000 of grabbing off $100,000 for $25 or thereabouts.

Golden Text: God will bring every work into judgment, with every hidden thing, whether it be good or whether it be evil. Ecclesiastes XII 14.

The Handwriting on the Wall
There is not in the literature a more vivid word-picture than that which describes the last night in Babylon. Out of that dim past of two millenniums and a half ago, the city is made to rise again in its magnitude, grandeur, and strength.
Its walls, towering
three hundred and fifty feet, pierced by a hundred brazen
gates, inclosed a commonwealth rather than a metropolis. It is the center of the traffic, art, and learning of the world, and into it its treasures the golden streams of tribute and trade are pouring ceaselessly. The golden youth, Belshazzar, is the untrammelled master of the scene.

He is crown prince but acting as king while his father, the scholarly Nabonidus, is absent from the capital in research or immersed in study at home. Cyrus, the conqueror of the world, and his myriad of Medes and Persians appears upon the scene. Belshazzar, flushed with the unrivalled strength of his city, does not so much as admit the thought of its being taken. Its fortifications are impregnable, its stores inexhaustible. The incident of a siege does not interfere with the banquet which has been planned. It is held probably in the temple of Belus, that wonder of the world.

Many temples of many lands have been looted to supply that table with its gold and silver service, and there is the glitter of "barbaric pearl."

There are a thousand guests...
What may have begun as an orderly state dinner degenerates into a wild drinking bout, in the midst of which an act of sacrifice is committed when the holy vessels of the temple of Jerusalem are put to ignoble use. When Jehovah is thus disgraced, the drunken idolaters prostrate themselves before images of their gods.
At that very moment, in the full light of the candelabra which may have been the golden candlestick from Jerusalem, a hand appears writing some mystic legend upon the plaster of the wall. The revelers are sober in an instant. A pallor and limps spreads over all. There was a scurrying about for the magi, but their skill failed them. At the queen's suggestion Daniel is brought in. The king appeals to him deferentially.

Never did a servant of God show himself more worthy of his high calling. He disdains the proffered gifts, great though they are.
With relentless fidelity he points out Belshazzar's course as compared with that of Nebuchadnezzar.
Then addresses himself to the interpretation of the inscription.
"Numbered." "Weighed." "Divided." The last page in Babylonian history is written. Its course is "finished." It is "weighed" by the unerring hand of God of nations, and in spite of its phenomenal advantages is found "wanting." And now its doom is irrevocably sealed. It shall be "broken," "divided" between its conquerors. The last act of Belshazzar is the fulfillment of his vow, and the granting of the reward for the interpretation. An empty honor that to be ruler of a kingdom even then dissolving.

Present Day Applications
Day of Judgment not a mere dogma of religion. It is an institution of the human soul. The finger of God has written it upon the conscience that even for idle words as well as wicked deeds man must give account to his Maker.

Earnest or Triflers
Several attitudes can be taken toward life and its experiences.
Lord Bolingbroke in his pessimism said that as far as he was concerned he would sleep in the carriage for the rest of his journey of life. The agnostic for his part says he doesn't know what it means, while the stoic just grimly endures. Then there is what Henry VanDyke calls the fat-witted optimist who just closes his eyes, turns his back and laughs.

Against all of these the Christian earnestly seeks the kingdom of God for himself and for others, the kingdom the substance of which his righteousness, and the effects of which are peace and joy.

Wesley Chapel and Its Woman's Foreign Missionary Society

(By Mrs. Vasey.)
The earnest women in the Point and Lynnville neighborhood had often thought of organizing a Foreign Missionary Society, so in 1878, at a basket meeting in Mr. Fearnough's Grove, this thought took form and arrangements were made to hold a meeting at Wesley Chapel the following Sunday, Sept. 22, to complete the organizing of such a chapter. Rev. Rutledge was pastor at Wesley Chapel at this time, and Rev. O. L. Tindall was an interested assistant in this organization.

Mrs. Dougherty of Jacksonville was with them at this meeting, making an earnest and interesting address after which she read the constitution, and by-laws, commenting on them separately after which they were adopted without change by the new society. Then followed election of officers.

President, Mrs. A. H. Harvey; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. M. Horton, Recording Secretary, Cynthia Graves; First Vice President, Mrs. Jonathan Richardson; Second Vice President, Mrs. Angelo; Third Vice President, Mrs. John Richardson; Treasurer, Mrs. James Ranson. Mrs. Ranson served as treasurer for a period of twelve years. She is not only a charter member but has been a life member since 1885; and remained an active member of the society even after she left the community until her ill-health caused a halt in all active work.

The Charter members were: Mrs. Thomas Angelo, Mrs. John Richardson, Mrs. Mattie Horton, Mrs. William Hamell, Mrs. Fred Scholfield, Mrs. James Ranson, Miss Nellie Marker, Mrs. Jonathan Richardson, Miss Emma Hammill, Miss Cynthia Graves, Mrs. Edward Harvey, Mrs. T. L. Tindall.

Twelve earnest Christian workers anxious to do their share of the world's work for their Master. Only one of them enrolled with us now after forty three years of labor in His vineyard, Mrs. James Ranson. Miss May Graves meeting with the society in its early youth and who also became a life membership in 1885. We still have her enrolled and consider her almost a charter member.

The second meeting was held at the home of the new president, Mrs. Edward Harvey, a month later. It was decided at the meeting to have for the regular meeting day the third Friday of each month and when no member or friend invited them to their homes the meeting would be held at the church. However the work was so new to them and they felt so much the need of instruction that many of the meetings were held at the church on Sunday with experienced workers to address them to encourage, help and instruct them.

Mrs. Dougherty was often with them at these meetings and in 1881 Dr. Short gave a lecture on "Woman's Part in Missionary Work." Wouldn't you like to read the lecture over today—41 years later

Lost Member By Death

When the society was only a year old they lost by death a valuable member, Mrs. O. L. Tindall, the following year Mrs. Scholfield dropped her membership, while Mrs. Horton moved away.

Three of the twelve gone but to take their place came Mrs. James Groves, Mrs. Peter Ranson and Mrs. Isaac Lazenby, also several men. The men at this time not only helped financially but would lead the devotional services and help with the lessons of the day. The popularity of the Missionary Society for the men at this time might possibly have been caused by the menu served at these meetings. It seems that about that time the society raised its money by quilting at a dollar per spool. (larger spools than we have now, too) and making and selling rag carpets. They would go for the day and feast as well as sew. As one of the older members once said to me, "You should have seen the things they used to serve—everything you could think of and hardly room on the table for it all." As I say the menu might have attracted the men or it may have been the fact that as these women had to take a horse and drive for miles to these different meeting places, that the men merely went along to take care of the horses. However, the records show the men did do a big thing in helping to keep up the work the women had undertaken.

More new members from Wesley Chapel and the Lynnville members dropping out caused the name to be changed from the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of Lynnville and Wesley Chapel to the Wesley Chapel Auxiliary. This was adopted in 1883 at the home of Mrs. Belle Mawson.

April 5, 1885, Mrs. John Vasey joined the society and was corresponding secretary for 25 consecutive years, and in appreciation of her faithful services the society had a silver jubilee, each member donating a dollar and making her a life member. The only one of the early members to be still active in this work.

In 1886 a bazaar was held, the proceeds of which were $92.09, so the society could raise large amounts when necessary, altho the plate collection at this time was very, very small.

Honored Mrs. Richardson. In 1895 three very valuable members were united with the society, Mrs. George Richardson, whose annual meetings were an event in the community. The collections at these meetings being more than the plate offering all the rest of the year. So in Feb., 1914, the society, in appreciation of her services, voted to use a part of the collection money to make her a life member. On account of failing health, Mrs. Richardson was able to have only one open meeting after that, but those meetings will live on in the hearts of those who were privileged to attend them.

Miss Jane Ann Middleton coming into the society at this time served as its president from 1901 until Sept., 1917, when on account of ill-health she asked to be relieved of that duty and Mrs. Hilton Middleton who served as treasurer for twelve years, is still a faithful, active worker with us.

In 1918 the society doubled its membership and tripled its subscription to the friend and it was then these interesting annual joint meetings of the Ebenezer and Wesley Chapel were begun. May they long continue.

In 1919 the Society was able to throw out a new and thriving branch. The Standard Bearers, under the guidance of Mrs. Edith Richardson is doing a big task for its size.

In the forty three years the society has raised $5,971.96; $5,491.86 being sent away, leaving $480.10, or an average of $11.16 for a year for running expenses, $1,397.17 of the amount was

AN INTERESTING SOUVENIR

Comrade J. W. Peaker has in his possession a deeply interesting souvenir of the famous "Iron Brigade" of which he was a member. At each national encampment the survivors endeavor to have a reunion of all survivors and the occasions are much enjoyed by the old fellows.

It was organized October 2, 1861 of the 2nd, 6th and 7th Wisconsin and 19th Indiana regiments and later Battery B, Fourth Artillery; was added to it. May 8, 1862 Capt. John Gibbon of Battery B., was assigned to the command with rank of Brigadier general and for a time it was known as the Hat Brigade, but after the battle of South Mountain, September 14, 1862, it was known as the Iron Brigade, an appellation, the members had richly earned and kept till the close of the war.

In October, 1862 the 24th Michigan Infantry was added to the brigade and remained with it till the close of the civil war. The various commanders were Generals Rufus King, John Gibbon, Solomon Meredith, Lysander Cutler and Edward and S. Bragg, only survivor of the list.

There are thirty recorded engagements in which the brigade participated and the casualties were fearful. Bravely and gallantly they fought and the pamphlet contains a list of the survivors, meager handful only remaining.

HOME FROM CALIFORNIA

Four years ago M. E. Jackson went to Petersburg and bought a photograph gallery, having learned the business with Otis Boston in this city. Last August he sold out and with his wife, three children and Mrs. Jackson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stice set sail in a Buick car for California, pulling up at Santa Ana in good shape, camping all the way.

He was ready to return about the first of July and with the same number and Mercy Jackson added, started back by the auto road traveling in all 2400 miles in fifteen days and camping every night. They had a little tire trouble in the hot sands of the desert and that was about all. The worst dust they encountered was this side of the river. Kansas mud detained them two days also. They all return in fine condition and enthusiastic over the trip. They go to Franklin to Mrs. Jackson's sister, Mrs. John Votsmeier for the present. Mr. Jackson expects to start in business again in this state.

Roodhouse, Ill., July 15.—Mrs. W. A. Jolley, Mrs. S. M. Drake and Miss Vivian Jolley entertained at 560 Tuesday afternoon at the Jolley home on East Franklin street. The commodious porch was utilized for the comfort and convenience of the ladies while playing. There being just enough present to fill twelve tables. Mrs. C. W. Payne is here from San Antonio, Texas, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Gilmore.

A local force of men are at work in the McClay orchards picking, grading, barreling and hauling the Duchess apples. There will be about two car loads. If the railroad strike continues they will haul the apples to White Hall for shipment over the Burlington road. The entire output from the orchards of eleven hundred acres this year is estimated at between ten and fifteen thousand barrels, or about a fourth of a crop.

The Ease and Comfort of 70 Horsepower Might

When you first sit behind the wheel of a Paige 6-66 you will be amazed at the ease and simplicity of control.

Gear shifting is an almost unconscious operation. The pressure of one finger on the lever is quite sufficient to make the change instantly and noiselessly.

As you step on the accelerator you will find that the car swings into its stride without a suggestion of overloading.

You have the might of 70 horsepower to draw upon—power that is almost liquid in flexibility—power that serves you at slow speeds or at the pace of an express train.

And, though you are the driver, you will find that the 6-66 has an uncanny way of steering itself. The wheel responds to the gentlest movement of your hands—seems, indeed, to anticipate your will in advance.

All this is fact, not fancy. It is the supreme attribute of the Paige 6-66—for the Daytona model is the holder of ten world's stock chassis speedway records and unquestioned Master of the Highway.

STOCK MARKET HAD
FAIRLY ACTIVE DAY
 By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The monotony of today's short and perfunctory session of the stock market was relieved by the diversified movements of a few leaders in the equipment and oil divisions.

Extreme advances of one to almost five points were made by Baldwin, American and Lima Locomotives, Pressed Steel Car, Railway Steel Spring, Pullman, and a few affiliated issues, while domestic oils and several of the Mexican group were under constant selling pressure.

Strength in the equipments, which later encompassed several of the independent steels, as well as coppers, motors and a few unclassified issues, was ascribed to reports that the leading railway systems are soon to issue large contracts for supplies.

Trading in rails was nominal and without material changes, save in several junior issues.

Foreign exchanges were better, in most instances rising to the week's highest levels. Demand sterling got above 4.44, allied rates gained 4 to 10 points and the German mark also rallied, tho not to its recent best.

The weekly clearing house statement was featureless, loans and discounts showing a small expansion in actual conditions, slightly better. Domestic sales were $25,600,000 in cash holdings, reducing excess reserve to about $12,300,000.

Liberties held much of yesterday's general advance. Total bond
